

PAINFUL!

Is that a word your participants use when they attend a seminar?
Well it doesn't have to be that way!

Looking to give your group some professional development that is fun, uplifting and gets them to take action? Are you ready to let them poke fun at the daily grind that challenges them rather than listen to them whine about it? Ready for an irreverent, in-your-face speaker that will really get them thinking about becoming better employees, better leaders, better teams, better people?

Rich DiGirolamo has been increasing morale, creating fun leaders and challenging people to lead better personal and professional lives for a gazillion years. He takes a humorous (hence the gazillion comment), hard line approach to get people taking the necessary steps to cut the whining and look for the fun in all situations.

Programs/Topics:

- Permission To Speed
- Employee Morale: Whose Job Is It Anyway?
- Are You Done Whining?
- The Problem Is...

In Your Face!

Fun Facts About Rich:

- Speaker, Whine Enthusiast, Fun Director
- Workshop, Keynote, and Seminar Expert
- Years of practical corporate and entrepreneurial experience; 40+ years of childlike behavior
- Member of the National Speakers Association
- Easy to work with; Water and Marshmallow Peeps are a great start

What Participants Are Saying:

Irreverent!

From the participant evaluations it is clear that your message was well received and people truly enjoyed your delivery. Your speaker ratings clearly resulted in your being added to our list of "Power Speakers"
– Wendy Rubin, Chair, 2006 NRPA Congress Program Committee

Your presentation was focused, insightful, and most importantly fun. You captured everyone's attention with just the right mix of seriousness and levity without becoming cliché. - Connie Cirillo Freeman, CWBTA

Rich DiGirolamo is no 'run of the mill' speaker - Rich breathed life into our program. I had yet to see our workshop participants totally engrossed in the program until we included Rich.

– Ruth Agnese, Appraisal Institute

Fun!
